FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Jackson Municipal Airport Authority Chosen by Mississippi Business Journal as 2010 Best Places to Work

The Jackson Municipal Airport Authority has been recognized by the Mississippi Business Journal as a “Best Places to Work in Mississippi” winner. Launched in 2005, the Best Places to Work in Mississippi awards program looks to honor organizations that invest heavily in their employees.

Dirk B. Vanderleest, JMAA's chief executive officer, states "we are an employee friendly business, with the goal of making our airports not only one of the Best Places to Work in Mississippi but also one of the best places to develop your skills, improve your education, and to give back to the community we serve. We offer training and professional development opportunities to all our employees. Our management and supervisory team is focused on performance and how together we can increase the skills and knowledge of our team members to make sure that when we are called upon to provide service and support to our customers, we are all prepared to do our very best and that we will exceed their expectations."
